

Crossroads of the Over 50 Attorney: Maximizing the Remaining Years of Your Youth

After 25 years of practicing law, the goal of many attorneys is to add fun, excitement and fulfillment to their lives. The author has been practicing law in Chicago for over 30 years and has been involved in life-coaching for the last 12 years. Attorneys spend almost 25 years going to school and another 25 years building a law practice and raising a family. Once over the age of 50, we notice a rapidly shrinking window of youth. Time determines the quantity of our remaining years, but we have earned the right to determine the quality of those years. The fundamental issue is whether to wait for retirement or take action now while we are still young. This book describes how utilizing the techniques and methods of executive life-coaching can facilitate the process of maximizing the remaining years of our youth. The author decided to bring this concept to the growing number of over 50 attorneys to make the process faster, easier, and more likely to succeed.
