Against this judgment the Fundi wife appealed, and succeeded for the reasons contained in the Hamadi BIN I. Joha. judgment. OA--1904. Judge Cator.--This is a case in which the Town Magistrate of Mombasa has granted the Respondent an order for the restitution of conjugal rights against the Appellant. The parties were married when they were both slaves, but the Appellant subsequently became free. It has been urged that her freedom has not been proved, but she has sworn to the fact, and the Respondent has not attempted to contradict it. According to Mahomedan Law as soon as the Appellant became free she was entitled to claim a divorce from her slave husband, provided that she applied at once or as soon thereafter as she became acquainted with her right. The Magistrate finds that she acquired a knowledge of the law after she had quarrelled with her husband, and had left him, and has decided that inasmuch as she took no formal steps to get the marriage annulled and allowed this action to be brought against her she is now precluded from making such a demand. The Magistrate was advised as to the law by Sheikh Mohamed bin Kassim, whom I have also consulted in the absence of the Sheikh Ul Islam, and I understand from the Sheikh that considerable latitude should be allowed to the woman. I gather from him that it rests with the husband to prove that the wife has with full knowledge elected to live with him and to waive her right to a divorce. The Respondent has not proved that she made any such election, and her conduct was not such as to establish any such presumption, and I have come to the conclusion, though with some little hesitation, that I must allow the appeal, but under the ci...
