

Hancocks Half Hour The Lost Radio Episodes: Sid James Dad & The Diet

Tony Hancock stars in two long-lost episodes from the classic BBC Radio series Hancocks Half Hour: Sid James Dad (28 October 1956) and The Diet (7 December 1955). Broadcast live, these rare recordings are made available for the first time in more than 50 years. In Sid James Dad, Sid is expecting a visit from his father. Being ashamed to admit his true profession, he has explained his regular appearances in court by telling the old man he is a judge. The Diet sees Hancock being offered the lead role in a romantic film. Unfortunately, the American producer Mr. Stroud (Kenneth Williams) tells Hancock he's too fat for the part and he must go on a diet. Including special sleeve-notes detailing the making of the original productions, these episodes celebrate the 60th anniversary of the Galton and Simpson writing partnership. 1 CD. 1 hr.
