

Journey to the Hotseat

Journey To The Hotseat is a personal account of my quest to get to the most sought after seat in the country as it is often referred to by Chris Tarrant, the host of the ever popular TV show Who Wants To Be A Millionaire. A lucky few manage to make it to the hotseat after one phone call, others manage it after several attempts and others, like myself, have to persevere for months and maybe years to even get close to that elusive prize. My purpose in writing this book is simply to share my experience with anybody who might be interested in reading about what it is like to be a contestant on TV quiz shows. It might also interest those who want to pick up a few tips on what is involved in preparing for such a challenge. Going one step further, I hope it will provide some inspiration to anybody aiming to achieve any kind of goal in life - the same principles can be applied to any human endeavour, be it a short-term task or a once in a lifetime undertaking.
