

THE JOURNEY OF A MILLION GUESSES

Mentioning Ancient Astronauts, the profound theory that they left a legacy of descendants from the mating of a Mayan Priest and an Alien visitor from Earth's closest planet is the fear, real concern, as to who are the descendants of today? A journey of many thousands of years documented as a journal titled Yesterday to Tomorrow has been written by the ancients. Research into the reading of these messages is like gathering pieces of a jigsaw puzzle bit by bit. The offerings of evidence, fitting it all into a sort of matrix of curiosity, creating a hypotheses. Knowledge is your reward. Walking amid the shards of time spent among Earth's clutter suggests many a scenario. An instance being they, the ancients, as the witnesses. Cave artists left us many messages; telling their stories with the Ink made of Bat dung and animal blood, clay and charcoal ashes. Everyone has a story to tell, something did and done, lessons learned becoming an artifact during their stay here on Earth.
