

True Freedom As for me, I strive to die broke and owning nothing. No body of water can be pure if its drops are polluted. Like the little drops of water that makes up the deep blue sea, one human being at a time makes up a society. Upon your back rest the entire structure, financial and political, of the world. You are the foundation of all that exists, and that makes you the most valuable ingredient in the formula. By reading this work you will see how truly simple it is for you to take control, and forever secure the future for yourself and your family. We do not need Welfare, Social Security, or any other form of financial assistance for this to be true. It is but one step, one way or the other. So read on, think, and then take back the house, it is your right, nay, your responsibility, to do so. K. I. Smet, as fate would have it.
