

A Treatise on the Contract of Sale

Beautiful decorated teal green boards with bright gilt lettering and design. Full-bound in genuine leather. Film was prepared, courtesy of the Yale Law Library, from first edition of 1839. Silk ribbon bookmarker. Page edges are gilded. The spine is stamped in 22-karat gold. Privately printed for the Members of The Legal Classics Library. The treatises on French Law are devoted to matters of the customary law, then in force in France, to the subjects of obligations and contracts, the nature and transmission of various kinds of property, the law of persons, of things and of possession, and to civil and criminal procedure. The most valuable of these works are the treatises on obligations and contracts. 406 pages.
