

Two Thousand Daffodils

Gayle Swedmark Hughes tells her remarkable story in this memoir. She was the only woman when she entered her law class at Iowa, she rubbed elbows with governors and Florida Supreme Court justices, and she sat on a bunk with Ted Bundy for a pretrial conference. Despite some difficult moments, Gayle overcame all odds to claim her happiness with her beloved son Lance, and the love of her life, Frank Hughes, who planted two thousand daffodils in her yard when they became engaged.
